PLACES OF INTEREST AND SOME ATTRACTIONS IN BRUSSELS

Brussels, the capital city of Belgium and the political and administrative capital of Europe, is a city of surprising richness and diversity. With a wealth of architectural styles, Brussels is the cradle of art deco with houses by the famed Victor Horta, together with a wealth of Gothic churches, Flemish Renaissance architecture and charming classical buildings such as the Palais des Nations and the Palais Royal. A many-faceted and cosmopolitan city, Brussels attracts a great number of visitors due to its diversity of attractions. From fascinating museums and antique markets to an impressive selection of restaurants and bars, numerous shopping experiences and a frenetic nightlife, Brussels offers something for everyone.

• Grand-Place / Grote Markt is Brussels' beautiful central square and the focal point of the Brussels social life; an ideal spot to people-watch. Lined with ornate guild houses and museums, it's the centre for Brussels' most important ceremonies and festivals, not to mention the traditional bird market that is held here every Sunday morning.
• Palais Royal Brussels' “Royal Palace” is on the “Place des Palais” facing the “Palais de la Nation”, home of the Belgian parliament, across the Park of Brussels.
• Grand Sablon: the eclectic centre of exquisite antique galleries and dynamic, sumptuous restaurants.
• Musée d'Art Moderne: Brussels outstanding and contemporary museum, the museum acts as a showcase for Belgian modern art, as well as welcoming international artists.
• Musée Horta: a must-see attraction for the culture-seeking visitor to Brussels.
• Centre Belge de la Bande Dessinée (Belgium Comic Strip Museum): tour through the country's rich and vibrant comic-strip culture, from its earliest beginnings to its contemporary favourites.
• Manneken Pis: statue of a little boy in a somewhat compromising position has become a major part of the Brussels' sightseeing experience.
• Autoworld: a major Brussels attraction, with the largest collection of old and new cars in the world.
• Galerie St-Hubert: an impressive, covered shopping gallery that dates back to 1847. Aside from the shops and stores, the Brussels visitor will marvel at the sublime architecture.
